

Chicago Daily Law Bulletin

Volume 158, No. 110

Professor Kathryn Jennings Kennedy proudly presented her son, Mark Jennings Kennedy, with his diploma at Sunday's commencement ceremonies for The John Marshall Law School. He was one of 348 graduates receiving various degrees. Mark Kennedy is continuing his studies for an LL.M. degree in international business and trade law. Kathryn Kennedy serves as associate dean for Advanced Studies and Research and director of the Center for Tax Law and Employee Benefits at John Marshall. Photo courtesy of Mike Kelly.