

Chicago Daily Law Bulletin®

Volume 159, No. 57

IN THE NEWS

For the second consecutive year, students at The John Marshall Law School won first place at the Albert R. Mugel National Tax Competition. Third-year law students Patrick Bushell and Ryanne Dent won top honors against 11 other teams in the March 2 competition, held in Buffalo, N.Y. Dent also was named “best oral advocate” and Bushell took fourth place in the “oral advocate” category. They were coached by professor Arthur Acevedo.