HONORS

William T. McGrath, associate director of The John Marshall Law School Center for Intellectual Property and an adjunct professor, won a Peter Lisagor Award on Friday from the Chicago Headline Club for a column he wrote for the Daily Law Bulletin.

McGrath, who writes a monthly column on intellectual property issues, won for a column, "Gingrich Faces Eye of the Copyright Tiger," which clarified misconceptions detailing Newt Gingrich's battle to use the song "Eye of the Tiger" for his 2012 presidential campaign.

He is a member of Davis, McGrath LLC.
